by Shannon Smith Hughes. A reception will be held on Oct. 4, from 5-8pm. Hughes says, "This collection of paintings suggest signs of transitions through various symbolic forms; doors, roads, rising tides, changing weather, dramatic sunsets, as well as the decline on our local shrimping industry. We are designed to adapt and adjust to our ever changing environment. Such changes in our daily routines and responsibilities help shape and mold our character. I am experiencing the most significant and exciting transition in my life thus far; marriage, entering step motherhood, and moving into a new home and studio."
