thumb-sized miniatures, pine needle baskets, woven baskets, manikin floor lamps, and more. In addition to working with pine needles and kudzu, Basket has woven with corn husks, rye straw, horsehair, wisteria, grapevines, and cat tails. Red Rose Gallery, Through Mar. 31, 2024 - "Exploring the Diversity of American Religious Life through Sound". Choirs singing. Monks chanting. The reading of religious texts. These are religious sounds. But so too are the creaking of church pews and the clanking of pots during the preparation of a communal meal. "Sounds of Religion" is a Smithsonian poster exhibition that explores how rituals and gatherings of religious communities create a complex soundtrack of religions in America that teaches how people behave, how they're different, and how they're alike. "Sounds of Religion" is organized by the Smithsonian Institution Traveling Exhibition Service in cooperation with the American Religious Sounds Project of The Ohio State University and Michigan State University and made possible through the generous support of The Henry Luce Foundation. Through the 12 posters, the exhibition examines what religious sound is, how it can define a community, and where it can be found - from houses of worship and the home to public spaces and in acts of protest. The exhibit also looks at how the sound of religion can be affected by events like COVID-19. Duke Energy Gallery, Extended to Oct. 1 - "Woven Together: Fiber Art within Special Collections". The exhibition gives guests a look at some never-before-seen and rarely seen hand-woven creations from Native American Studies Collections. The exhibit includes regalia, fingerweavings, leatherworks, beaded items, moccasins, jewelry, and more. D. Lindsay Pettus Gallery, Ongoing - "The Story of Catawba Pottery". This National Endowment for the Arts funded exhibit traces the art, culture and history of Catawba pottery, the oldest Native American pottery tradition in the United States. Back Gallery, Semi-permanent Exhibit - "This is Us: Native American Studies". This exhibit celebrates the history and 10th Anniversary of USCL's Native American Studies, including artifacts and artwork from Collections, and a history of the building our Native American Studies Center calls home. Ongoing - The Center is 15,000 square foot facility in historic downtown Lancaster. Guests will have the opportunity to tour the NAS Center's gallery spaces, archives, classrooms, and archaeology, language, and audio-visual labs. Home to the world's largest collection of Catawba Indian pottery, the NAS Center will offer exhibits of regional Native American Art, classes and programs focused on Native American history, culture, archaeology, folklore, and language. Hours: Tue., Wed., Fri., & Sat., 10am-5pm; Thur., 10am-7pm; by appt. Closed Mon.&Sun. Myrtle Beach / Grand Strand

Work by Richard Hagerty

Franklin G. Burroughs · Simeon B. Chapin Art Museum, 3100 South Ocean Blvd., beside Springmaid Beach, Myrtle Beach. Oct. 3 - Dec. 31 - "Kristine Mays | A Time for Everything". Within each of the artist's hollow wire sculptures -- in either life-sized human form or the shape of a garment -- is a surprise: another figure, a small creature of nature, or a message. Each piece invites the viewer to look closer to find the hidden meaning beyond the mere shape of the artwork, as it challenges viewers' perceptions of identity and awareness. Mays' works are sculpted from thousands of pieces of wire hooked and looped together; yet despite the hardness of her medium, the artist achieves a fluidity to her forms that suggest the softness of a human body, with its fleeting gestures and expressions. Through Dec. 10 - "Richard Hagerty | The Big Uneasy". A reception will be held on Oct. 6, from 5:30-7:30pm and a gallery talk will be offered on Oct. 7, from 11am-12:30pm. Charleston, SC, surrealist artist Richard Hagerty has been painting his fantastic, visionary worlds for more than five decades. Often based on his dreams and fueled by intense curiosity, Hagerty's paintings explore manifold realms, including mythology, astronomy, anatomy, botany, history, philosophy and world religions. A retired plastic surgeon, Hagerty is formally trained in the rigors and discipline of science, which informs his artistic endeavors. His acute attention to detail, unquenchable thirst for knowledge and understanding of both concrete and abstract intellectual concepts and enthusiasm to share his thoughts and findings on canvas are what makes his art so compelling. Through Dec. 31 - "Local Stories Matter: Rediscovering Our Region with the Athenaeum Press". Discover the hidden stories of our region through the lens of The Athenaeum Press at Coastal Carolina University. Over the last ten years, collaborative teams of university students and faculty have worked with a wide variety of local communities in telling stories that enrich our understanding of the South. The topics range from Gullah Geechee spirituals to chicken bog to pirates. Experience the interactive and multimedia storytelling methods of each project, including augmented/virtual reality, musical albums and documentaries. The exhibition will also feature the wide-reaching impact of our collaborations. Come celebrate a decade of regional storytelling by visiting the exhibition and participating in programming both inside and outside of the Museum with our community collaborators. Ongoing - Myrtle Beach's Franklin G. Burroughs-Simeon B. Chapin Art Museum strives to be one of the finest visual arts museums in the Carolinas. With 11 galleries that change throughout the year, Myrtle Beach's only art museum offers exhibitions featuring paintings, textiles, sculpture, photography, video, ceramics, assemblage, collage and more. A visit to the Art Museum's exhibitions can be enhanced by its lively programming, including artist receptions, tours, lectures, workshops and classes for both adults and children. Hours: Tue.-Sat., 10am-4pm & Sun., 1-4pm. Contact: 843/238-2510 or at (www.myrtlebeachartmuseum.org).

North Charleston

Work by Cat Wondergem

Park Circle area, North Charleston. Oct. 14, 2023, from 11am-5pm - "Fall Park Circle Art Walk". Come participate in the socially distant Art Walk in Park Circle. Art shows have been reimagined. Due to COVID 19, our creative minds got together to create a walking, biking, or car riding art show in our community. Each artist/musician displays/performs their works of art in their front yards throughout Park Circle. Food trucks, artists, crafters, designers and craftsmen will be showcasing and selling their works. A map will be posted a week before the event takes place. For info visit (<https://www.facebook.com/ParkCircleArtWalk/>).

Work by Carson Carroll

Park Circle Gallery, formerly the Olde Village Community Building, 4820 Jenkins Avenue, in the bustling Park Circle neighborhood of North Charleston. Oct. 4 - 28 - "Metamorphosis," the Redux Artists Collective group exhibition. A reception will be held on Oct. 6, from 5-7pm. Metamorphosis is defined as a striking alteration in physical form, structure, or substance. All art involves metamorphosis - materials take on meanings, objects merge with subjects, and forms transform into new shapes. In their group exhibition, titled Metamorphosis, the Redux Artists Collective presents a collection of works in a variety of media that reflect the kinds of transformations that lie at the heart of art making. Ongoing - In addition to the monthly exhibitions, the "gift shop" at the North Charleston City Gallery, which features a variety of items by local artists, will also be moved to PCG. Cultural Arts will also continue to host art workshops and recurring meetings for art groups and guilds in the space once gatherings are safe to resume. Admission: Free. Hours:

Wed.-Fri., 10am-6pm & Sat., noon-4pm. The gallery will be closed on June 10 & 11. Contact: 843/740-5854, or at (<https://www.northcharleston.org/residents/arts-and-culture/>).
