Appleby Foundation Gallery, Through Nov. 6 - "Color Study". The exhibit provides a lively discourse between contemporary and historical works and tackles a variety of critical issues surrounding color. The works in this exhibition use color as their primary means of expression. Whatever their stance on these issues, the artists in the exhibition all share a steadfast devotion to the exploration of color. For these artists, color is not a mere descriptor; instead, it is a provocative and powerful force. Nov. 18 - Mar. 18, 2012 - "The New Materiality". The exhibit expands beyond the boundaries that currently exist between technology, art and craft. The artists in this exhibition use new technologies in tandem with traditional craft materials such as clay, glass, wood, metal and fiber, to forge new artistic directions. According to Fo Wilson, the curator of the exhibition, "The New Materiality" looks at a growing development in the United States towards the use of digital technologies as a new material and means of expression in the practice of craft. Artists featured in the exhibition include Brian Boldon, Shaun Bullens, E.G. Crichton, Sonya Clark, Lia Cook, Maaie

Evers, Donald Fortescue, LawrenceLaBianca, Wendy Maruyama, Christy Matson, Cat Mazza, Nathalie Miebach, Mike Simonian, Tim Tate, Susan Working and Mark Zirkel. Nov. 18 - Mar. 18, 2012 - "The New Materiality". American artist Josef Albers, best known for his series "Homage to the Square," influenced art-making of the 20th century by using the series to explore and manipulate viewers' color and spatial perception. Historically most two-dimensional work has been rectangular in format, but with Albers's series, art-making in the 20th century was dramatically changed. Albers's theories and influence extended to his many students from Black Mountain College and Yale University, and ultimately gave rise to Op ("optical") art and Minimalism. Holden Community Gallery, Through Jan. 8, 2012 - "A Tisket A Tasket: Appalachian, Cherokee and Low Country Baskets". The exhibit examines the similarities and distinctions between these three traditions. A major influence on all three is the role of tourists and collectors. As containers manufactured from cloth, glass or tin diminished the need for baskets as functional items, tourists, collectors and shop owners stepped into the gap, preserving these traditions. This transition also offered basket makers opportunities for earning an income. Many of the basket makers see their work not only as an economic activity, but as a way of preserving and passing along cultural and family identities to the next generation. Admission: Yes.
