Raleigh

African American Cultural Center Gallery, NCSU, Witherspoon Student Center, 2810 Cates Avenue, 2nd floor, Raleigh. Through Dec. 18 - "MEASURE OF EARTH: Textiles and Territory in West Africa". Drawing primarily from the rich holdings of African materials in the Gregg Museum's permanent collections, "MEASURE OF EARTH" explores the intricate relationships and meanings behind the patterns and imagery of West African textiles. The exhibition title refers to how African art not only serves to form visual links between local traditions and specific features and places in the landscape, but also to the geometric patterning that yields vivid visual energy to the textiles, artifacts and clothing that people wear. The word "geometry" derives from Latin words for "earth" and "measuring." Hours: Mon.-Thur., 9am-6pm and Fri., 9am-5pm. Contact: Zoe Starling, Curator of Education at 919/513-7244.

Work by Heather Gordon

Artspace, 201 E. Davie Street, Moore Square Art District, behind City Market, Raleigh. Upfront Gallery, Nov. 1 - 30 - "Trial by Fire II," featuring new collage works by Eric McRay. A reception will be held on Nov. 1, from 6-10pm. McRay is a popular artist, with a vital presence in the Artspace building for over fourteen years. About the collage technique, he says "collage, one of the major innovations of modern art, is an artist inserting pieces of the real world into a constructed one." Lobby Gallery, Through Nov. 30 - "How to Fold My Heart: Three Mothers, Daughters and Wives," featuring works by Heather Gordon. A reception will be held on Nov. 1, from 6-10pm. Using the birthplaces and residence locations for Gordon's grandmother, Sue Bergemeyer, and her daughters, Jackye Brooks and Elizabeth Gordon (the artist's mother), she created a small set of spatially related data used as a springboard to create the final diagrammatic works. Gallery 1, Through Nov. 9 - "Thought Maps & Ladders," featuring works by Ray Duffey and Becky Joye. A reception will be held on Nov. 1, from 6-10pm. Duffey is an artist who explores the relationships between wood, sculpture and furniture. Joye puts her experience as an architect to fanciful and at times ironic use to create her "Amusement series", featured in the exhibit. Hours: Mon.-Sat., 9am-5pm. Contact: 919/821-2787 or at (www.artspacenc.org).

CAM Raleigh, 409 W. Martin Street, between Harrington and West streets, Raleigh. Main Gallery, Through Jan. 13, 2014 - Surveying the Terrain, curated by Dan Solomon. The exhibition explores how ten contemporary artists are using maps, mapping technologies, cartography, surveying, science and politics to create artworks. The exhibition focuses on the how the artists' relationships to the Earth, the art they create, and our relationships to each other are condensed, extended, distorted and interpreted by beauty, politics, environmental degradation, poverty, surveillance, privacy and censorship. The determining factor in selecting the artists and artworks was aesthetic value. Art works chosen are intended to create a counter-environment making visible and beautiful what is normally invisible in our society. Hours: Mon., 11am-6:30pm; Wed.-Fri., 11am-6:30pm; Sat. & Sun., noon-5pm; and 1st & 3rd Fri., open till 9pm. Contact: 919/513-0946 or at (<http://camraleigh.org/>).

A reception will be held on Nov. 21, beginning at 6pm. North Carolinians are justifiably proud of their state's famous ceramics heritage and often point toward sturdy folkwares from Seagrove, the Catawba Valley and other rural locales as artisanal indicators of strong craft traditions and deep ties to the land. But with the exception of Native American pottery, most of it actually has roots originating elsewhere, ranging from the villages of Germany, Africa, Japan and China to the porcelain factories of England's Stoke-on-Trent. Hours: by appt. Mon.-Fri., 9am-5pm. Contact: Zoe Starling, Curator of Education at 919/513-7244.

Sacred belief, personal struggle and the essence of time and place form the conceptual framework of three distinct and powerful bodies of work. Block2, Through Nov. 15 - "Into the Woods and Gaze of Native Dreamers," by Adam Graetz. Hours: Mon.-Fri., 8:30am-5:15pm. Contact: 919/996-3610 or at (www.raleigh-nc.org/arts).

the North Carolina Museum of Art's first design exhibition, exploring the history and development of the Porsche lineage from the 1930s to the present day. All will gain a deep appreciation for hallmarks of the Porsche make: beauty, artistry, technology, and innovation. East Building, Level A, Through Jan. 26, 2014 - "Reveal: Portraits by Carrie Levy". Levy's portraits reveal everything and nothing at the same time. This solo exhibition features photographs selected from several series Levy created over the past decade and a half. Vulnerable, disquieting, and unsettling, her portraits explore the politics of representation: the gaze of the photographer and the subject of the gaze. Although she has photographed women frequently in her work, this exhibition presents male portraits "under the microscope of a severe female gaze," as Levy puts it. Works in the exhibition are selected primarily from her series Domestic Stages, Polaroids, and You Before All. East Building, Gallery 2, Through Jan. 5, 2014 - "Brian Ulrich Copia—Retail, Thrift, and Dark Stores, 2001–2011". Contemporary photographer Brian Ulrich's decade-long investigation of American consumer culture, Copia, traces a route from the exuberant excess of big-box stores to the bleak suburban landscapes of closed malls and empty shopping centers. The exhibition is divided into three parts, starting with Retail (2001–2006), in which Ulrich anonymously documented shoppers engrossed in navigating the abundance of goods found in vast enclosed malls and big-box stores. Thrift (2005–2008) focuses on thrift stores, the collecting places for discarded and unwanted consumer products, and its workers, as they tried to bring order to the overwhelming amounts of donated, discarded, and unwanted consumer products. Finally, in Dark Stores (2008–2011), Ulrich explores the impact of the 2008 financial crisis with haunting architectural landscapes of abandoned buildings and empty parking lots that have become commonplace in towns across America. Julian T. Baker Jr. Gallery, Through Jan. 26, 2014 - "Outsiders: Facing the Camera". This exhibition brings together works from the North Carolina Museum of Art's permanent collection that examine the forms of "otherness." Perhaps through an expression, a posture, or a feeling, these photographs document subjects who are, in some way, detached. North Carolina Gallery, Through Feb. 9, 2014 - "Close to Home: A Decade of Acquisitions". As the preeminent art institution of North Carolina, the NCMA is firmly committed to presenting and promoting the work of artists from our state. The exhibition includes paintings, photographs, sculptures, and mixed-media works acquired by the Museum in the last 10 years. The exhibition features work by well-known favorites such as Bob Trotman, Beverly McIver, and George Bireline alongside brand-new works on view for the first time by artists such as Linda Foard Roberts, John Rosenthal, Peter Glenn Oakley, and Anne Lemanski. West Building, Through Feb. 7, 2014 - "Masterworks from the Chrysler Museum". The exhibition presents a series of loans selected by NCMA Curator of European Art David Steel from the Chrysler Museum in Virginia. Interspersed throughout the galleries, 18th- and 19th-century paintings and sculptures by such masters as Edgar Degas, Pierre-Auguste Renoir, Francesco Bertos, Mary Cassatt, and Auguste Rodin are strategically installed next to related works in the NCMA's permanent collection, inspiring dialogue among the works. West Building, Ongoing - Featuring 10 additional sculptures by the celebrated French artist Rodin on loan from Iris Cantor's private collection. Ongoing - "John James Audubon's The Birds of America". The state has owned this treasured volume since 1848, but it has never been exhibited. Ongoing - The North Carolina Museum of Art has an outstanding permanent collection of more than 5,000 objects spanning antiquity to the present day.
