Pinkie Strother, "Island Creek Elementary Interior" mixed media, 2004

Louise Wells Cameron Art Museum, @ intersection of Independence Blvd. & South 17th Street, Wilmington. Nov. 13 - Mar. 20, 2022 - "Stephen Hayes: Voices of Future's Past". Born in Durham, NC, Stephen Hayes is the 2020 recipient of the 1858 Contemporary Southern Art Prize. Hayes is a creator who works with a variety of mediums – sculpture, casting, knitting, woodcuts, video, and audio – to explore issues of race and economics in the United States. "Cash Crop" features 15 life-size concrete statues chained to a pallet, representing the 15 million people who were transported as slaves from Africa to America. "Voices of Future's Past" explores the legacy of growing up black in America. Both works invite the viewer to participate, bringing a new depth to the experience of viewing art. In the "Cash Crop" installation, viewers walk between the figures, stepping over iron chains, connecting with the human experience of the atrocity of the transatlantic slave trade. Through Jan. 31, 2022 - "The Shadow We Create". The exhibition raises questions about societal prescriptions, race, servitude, fear, and the consequences of not speaking through compelling works by artists Mary Bowron, Willie Cole, and Jan-Ru Wan. The exhibition is named after Jan-Ru Wan's stunning work "The Noise We Make" and "The Shadow We Create", an assemblage of hundreds of rusted bells rendered silent by immersion in wax. "The Beauties", Willie Cole's full-scale prints are pulled from blackened crushed and hammered ironing boards. With titles including "Bessie", "Carolina", "Jonny Mae" and "Jane", each print is named for a woman in Cole's family. Simultaneously they reference servitude, beauty, oppression, and darkened holds of slave ships. "Shadow" features a haunting installation of "Silent Witness", a series by Mary Bowron populated by androgynous pit-fired ceramic heads. Some are smothered in thick wax, others branded with soot from the fire of their birth, with all featureless where a mouth once was, or may still be. "Shadow" addresses fear of speaking the truth amidst racial, social, political and economic unease. This exhibition asks the viewer to contemplate ways in which silence is forced and silence is broken. Through Jan. 31, 2022 - "Pinkie's Memories," a new exhibition from North Carolina artist Pinkie Strother. Strother re-creates her childhood memories of growing up the fourth of nine siblings in rural Maryland in the 1950s and 1960s through mixed media dioramas. These miniature buildings and rooms on a 1 inch scale offer a connection to the past through the recreation of the houses, churches, schools, and libraries of Pinkie's memories. Strother received formal training in art from Bowie State University where she studied to become a teacher and a MFA from the Maryland Institute College of Art. Pancoe Art Education Center, Exhibition Cases, Ongoing - View some of the Seagrove and contemporary pottery from the museum's permanent collection in the cases. Charlotte & Philip Hanes Art Gallery, Scales Fine Arts Center, Wake Forest University, 1834 Wake Forest Road #113, Winston-Salem. Main Gallery, Through Dec. 10 - "Means of Identification: New Acquisitions to the WFU Student Union Collection of Contemporary Art". During the spring semester of 2021, the Student Union Art Acquisitions Committee (SUAAC), consisting of an unprecedented thirteen WFU students, purchased nine artworks for the Collection. The academic year of 2020-2021 was, indeed, unprecedented as COVID-19 infiltrated daily life. The impact of this global pandemic is still on-going: it has claimed millions of lives and changed the ways in which each of us relates to and navigates the world. As the university responded to the challenges of safely reopening campus, the SUAAC members and faculty advisors pivoted to continue this one of a kind, nearly 60 year-old program of student's acquiring contemporary art for the WFU Art Collection. Restricted travel prevented the Committee from traveling to New York City to look at the work in person, so they instead paid virtual visits to dozens of galleries in New York City, Los Angeles, Chicago, Atlanta, Denver, and Detroit. While the trip was not possible, the main requirement for acquisitions remained the same since the founding of the program in 1962: to purchase art that reflects the times in which it was made. As the coronavirus was spreading and the world faced a debilitating economic crisis, a summer of racial reckoning, a U.S. Presidential Election, an insurrection on the nation's Capital building, and a political shift in the fight for climate change, artists were responding. Hours: Mon.-Fri., 10am-5pm and Sat. & Sun., 1-5pm, except university holidays. Contact: 336/758-5585 or at (<https://hanesgallery.wfu.edu/>).
