Orangeburg

Cecil Williams Civil Rights Museum, 1865 Lake Drive, Orangeburg. Ongoing - Established in 2019, the exquisite ultra-modern facility displays 1000 images of the Civil Rights Movement, but from the perspective of The Epochal South Carolina Events That Changed America. The massive archives comprise the largest collection of images of this type among all museums in the United States; including the Atlanta based High Museum which archives 300 images. The images were created by the founder, Cecil Williams, who began photography at age 9 and covered almost all historically significant events in South Carolina; from 1950 Briggs v. Elliot in Summerton, thru the 1969 Charleston Hospital Workers' Strike...and Beyond. From 1955 through 1969, Williams was a freelance journalist for "JET" magazine. His images have appeared in thousands of magazines, newspapers, historical publications, and motion picture productions. The museum design itself is part of the founders' DNA because; upon graduating from high school, Williams wanted to attend Clemson University to study architecture but denied because of his race. He then purchased a drafting board and through the years, designed three residences; including one featured in "EBONY", and the museum's design which has evolved into a living history facility. Spartanburg

Throughout downtown Spartanburg, 3rd Thursday, from 5-8pm - "Spartanburg ArtWalk," a free self-guided tour through participating galleries across Spartanburg's Cultural District. Contact: visit (www.chapmanculturalcenter.org).

Throughout downtown Spartanburg's Cultural District, Ongoing - The Creative Crosswalk Project is a public art initiative in which local artists and designers design and paint a series of crosswalk murals, transforming the crosswalks into works of art, on Main Street in Spartanburg, SC. The downtown cultural district area is often bustling with events and pedestrians, and the pedestrians rely heavily on a multitude of crosswalks to safely traverse the downtown Spartanburg area. The problem is that crosswalks are incredibly easy to overlook, they are rarely visually appealing, and they can even be quite dangerous. In an effort to remedy these issues, Chapman Cultural Center, the City of Spartanburg, and the Spartanburg Area Chamber of Commerce came together to organize the Creative Crosswalk Project. For more info visit (<https://www.chapmanculturalcenter.org/pages/blog/detail/article/c0/a1555/>).

Work by Lady Pluuto

Artists Collective I Spartanburg, 578 West Main St., Spartanburg. Solomon Gallery, Nov. 8 - Dec. 23 - "Holiday Artisan Market". Looking ahead at the holidays, do you often think you'd like to give unique gifts - one-of-a-kind pieces that the recipient will really cherish? Sure, there are websites offering such items, but why not "shop local"? "This much-anticipated annual market will feature works of 44 regional artists' works - everything from acrylic paintings to sculptures and jewelry to photography and ceramics and just about everything in between," says Marcy Fedalei, one of the artists and a member of the Holiday Artisan Market Committee. "Every piece is original and unique, and sure to please any recipient, and while you're at it, pick up something - or a few things - for yourself." Prices of the art will range from under $5 to more than $1,000. Gallery III, Nov. 7 - Dec. 2 - "Heart Forward: The Resurrection of Love," featuring works by

Lady Pluuto. A reception will be held on Nov. 16, till 9pm, part of the Spartanburg ArtWalk. "These digital paintings portray a pivotal moment where the heart reawakens after healing from suffering and heartbreak," Lady Pluuto says, adding that she hopes people walk away with "a new perspective to always believe in the strength of their hearts." Gallery II, Nov. 7 - Dec. 2 - "Wildfire '23," featuring works by Dave Sawyer. A reception will be held on Nov. 16, till 9pm, part of the Spartanburg ArtWalk. "My work includes art pottery and decorative ceramic wall art," says Sawyer. "My inspiration comes from the world around us and reflects God's great gift of nature. Influences that can be seen in my work include a lifelong exposure to America's western traditions and Native American cultures as well as the awe-inspiring elements of our natural world." Ongoing - The Collective features a twenty thousand square foot facility offering affordable studio space, retail space, three galleries, a full ceramics studio, printery, and works by 50 local artists. Beer and wine are available for those 21+. Ongoing - Works by Carl Tait and Harold Krisel are on display. Tait was a successful painter, textile designer, and interior designer. His ties to the Spartanburg community originate from his longtime employment at Milliken and Company. Tait was born in Old Town, Maine in 1917 and graduated from the New Hampshire Institute of Arts and Science. In the late 1940s, he moved to New York City where he designed an exclusive line of ladies' handkerchiefs for the department store B. Altman, now considered vintage, collectible items. He also became associated with the American Artist Group designing Christmas cards, an occupation which he kept up throughout the majority of his artistic career. Krisel was a distinguished artist, architect, and teacher as well as a loving father and husband. Though Krisel may not be a household name among Spartanburg residents, he has made a significant artistic contribution to the Spartanburg community. Born in Brooklyn, NY in 1920, Krisel's interest in art and design started at a young age. He attended the American Artist School in New York city as a teenager where he met renowned modern artists, including Piet Mondrian, who greatly influenced his abstract style. After studying architecture at the New Bauhaus in Chicago from 1946-1949, he received his graduate degree from Illinois Institute of Technology in 1952. The following year, he began working for architectural firm Skidmore, Owings and Merrill when Roger
