Artist Elliott Daingerfield at the edge of the Grand Canyon.

Hickory Museum of Art, Arts and Science Center, 243 Third Avenue NE, Hickory. Through Apr. 20 - "A GRAND VISION: Elliott Daingerfield Paints the Grand Canyon and Grandfather Mountain". The celebration of Hickory Museum of Art's milestone 75th birthday will center on the first-of-its-kind blockbuster exhibit. Organized by the Museum's team in collaboration with the artist's grandson, Joe Daingerfield Dulaney, the exhibition evokes the days of the Museum's founding and spotlights the creative processes of the acclaimed National Academician Elliott Daingerfield, even while it anchors in the present with a series of related events and activities. Elliott Daingerfield was born in Harper's Ferry VA (now WV). In 1886, then 25 years old and already an established New York City painter, Daingerfield traveled to Blowing Rock with his wife to recuperate from diphtheria. It was the beginning of his long devotion to Blowing Rock where he maintained summer homes with his family for the rest of his life. This exhibit will be the first to bring together Daingerfield's magnificent portrayals of these two geographical monuments. "A GRAND VISION" will include masterworks on loan from the Morris Museum of Art in Augusta, GA, The Johnson Collection in Spartanburg, SC, Blowing Rock Art and History Museum, as well as many more works and artifacts from private collections and the artist's family. All were chosen to create a first-of-its kind story about Daingerfield's creative process, life, and relationship to the two beloved landmarks. Whitener Gallery, Through Jan. 6 - "Dear Paul Letters: The Correspondence that built HMA's Collection".
