His ties to the Spartanburg community originate from his longtime employment at Milliken and Company. Tait was born in Old Town, Maine in 1917 and graduated from the New Hampshire Institute of Arts and Science. In the late 1940s, he moved to New York City where he designed an exclusive line of ladies' handkerchiefs for the department store B. Altman, now considered vintage, collectible items. He also became associated with the American Artist Group designing Christmas cards, an occupation which he kept up throughout the majority of his artistic career. Krisel was a distinguished artist, architect, and teacher as well as a loving father and husband. Though Krisel may not be a household name among Spartanburg residents, he has made a significant artistic contribution to the Spartanburg community. Born in Brooklyn, NY in 1920, Krisel's interest in art and design started at a young age. He attended the American Artist School in New York city as a teenager where he met renowned modern artists, including Piet Mondrian, who greatly influenced his abstract style. After studying architecture at the New Bauhaus in Chicago from 1946-1949, he received his graduate degree from Illinois Institute of Technology in 1952. The following year, he began working for architectural firm Skidmore, Owings and Merrill when Roger Milliken hired them to design Milliken's new research facility in Spartanburg. Upon realizing Krisel was also a sculptor, Milliken hired him to design the spray fountain outside of the facility which functions as a recycler of air conditioning water. He then went on to design the Trident Fountain located outside of the Papadopoulos building on Wofford College's campus. Hours: Mon.-Fri., 10am-7pm & Sat, 9am-3pm. Rosalind Sallenger Richardson Center for the Arts, Wofford College, Spartanburg. Richardson Family Art Museum, Through Dec. 13 - "The League of Extraordinary Artists: The Art Students League of New York and Its Impact on Southern Art Presented by the Johnson Collection". Since its inception 150 years ago, the Art Students League of New York has been a leader in defining and nurturing American art. Many of the country's brightest luminaries have been formed in its Manhattan halls, and it remains a prestigious proving-ground for artists. Eschewing formal degrees or a standardized curriculum, the Art Students League instead employs the classical atelier method, where instructors mentor and collaborate with students in small studio groups. Artists with ties to the American South have been pivotal in building the brand, the reach, and the reputation of the Art Students League. Featured artists include: Sigmund Abeles, Charles Alston, Carroll Cloar, Josephine Couper, Sidney Dickinson, Lamar Dodd, Jeanet Dreskin, Anne Goldthwaite, Marie Hull, Rockwell Kent, Margaret Law, Blanche Lazzell, Norman Lewis, Blondelle Malone, Mabel Pugh, Haywood Rivers, Oli Sihvonen, Theodoros Stamos, Eugene Thomason, Edmund Yaghjian, and Rufus Zogbaum. Through Dec. 13 - "Insider Addition: Folk and Self-Taught Art in the American South". The exhibition is a glimpse into the unconventional mixed media art of folk, self-taught, and community-trained artists from the American South. While many of these artists never intended for their creations to fill the walls of galleries and museums, their talent, long overlooked by the mainstream art world, was noticed by Asheville- and St. Simon's Island-based artist and collector Randy Siegel. His collection, as seen in this exhibition, showcases various ways in which artists interpret and express the unique culture of their Southern communities. Featured artists include: Z B Armstrong, Hawkins Boulden, Adam Brandau, Thornton Dial, Sam Doye, Minnie Evans, Howard Finster, Carlton Garrett, Bessie Harvey, Lonnie Holley, Clementine Hunter, Anderson Johnson, George Kornegay, Charlie Lucas, Ethel Maw Matthews, J.T.
