Reynolda House Museum of American Art, Reynolda Road, Winston-Salem. Mary and Charlie Babcock Wing Gallery, Feb. 18 - Aug. 5 - "A Genius for Place: American Landscapes of the Country Place Era". Curated by landscape historian Robin Karson, who chose seven iconic American estates from coast to coast for the project, the exhibition features 70 black-and-white and seven color photographs by photographer Carol Betsch of influential landscape designs created between 1895 and the last years of the Great Depression. By documenting the estates that survive from the Country Place Era, "A Genius for Place" invites visitors to consider the importance of protecting these significant examples of American landscape design. West Bedroom Gallery, Through May 20 - "Domestic Bliss: Art at Home in Britain and America, 1780-1840". Featuring 15 works from the collections of Reynolda House and Wake Forest University, the exhibition considers important trends in late 18th-century British and American painting: the importance of home life as an artistic theme, and the display of portraiture, genre, and landscape paintings and prints in the home. Northeast Bedroom Gallery, Through Feb. 20 - "Wonder and Enlightenment: Artist-Naturalists in the Early American South". A spirit of exploration dominated the political and intellectual growth of the country in America's early centuries, both before and after Independence. The primary form of exploration was the unremitting, conquering movement outward from Eastern ports into the far reaches of the continent. This military expansion had an intellectual corollary in the artists and naturalists who attempted to map their physical world and document in text and image the astonishing variety of flora and fauna native to their new country. This exhibition includes three plates from John James Audubon's Birds of America, a painting and four prints by Joshua Shaw, paintings by Edward Hicks and David Johnson, and an early edition of Mark Catesby's ornithological treatise. Ongoing - Collection of 18th through 20th century art, sculpture, American art, and pottery. Admission: Yes. Hours: Tue.-Sat., 9:30am-4:30pm & Sun., 1:30-4:30pm. Contact: 336/725-5325 or at (www.reynoldahouse.org).

Southeastern Center for Contemporary Art, 750 Marguerite Drive, Winston-Salem. Through Mar. 4 - "Out of Fashion". The word "fashion" is synonymous with trends, fads, immediacy and a fleeting exercise of life in the moment. Yet in the very ebb and flow of fashion's passing fancy, an accumulation of lives, stories and materials collects into an ambivalent history. The eclipse of a once-thriving textile industry in North Carolina speaks to the volatility of market-driven fashion/s, spurring new, regenerative practices from mountains to the coast. Rather than keeping up with the latest fashions (and their continuing demands of consumerism, turnover and excess) there is a movement amongst local artists and designers that turns instead to refuge, time and duration. Their work derives out of fashion, but is outside fashion's perpetual amnesia. Beyond the runway, this exhibition mines the histories of fashion as vessels of time, nature, and memory. The exhibit was organized by SECCA and curated by Steven Matijcio. Hours: Tue.-Sat., 10am-5pm, Thur. till 8pm; Sun., 1-5 pm, and closed Mon. & state holidays. Admission is free. Contact: 336/725-1904 or at (www.secca.org).
