Work by Holly Roberts

Turchin Center for the Visual Arts, Appalachian State University, 423 West King Street, Boone. Mezzanine Gallery, Through Feb. 6 - "Afterimage Anxiety: Joshua Rose." "Perhaps I am just in awe of everything when I settle down to really look at things," says Joshua Rose. Community Gallery, Through Feb. 6 - "Rain and the River: Jacklyn St. Aubyn." Painter Jacklyn St. Aubyn creates a magical space in which things aren't what they appear to be. First perceptions may be misleading. She has landscapes and interiors in mind as she works, but not in the realistic sense; rather, she conjures imaginary spaces that defy logic. Mayer Gallery, Through Feb. 6 - "CANTAR DE CIEGOS/ SONG OF THE BLIND: Esperanza Cortés". In conjunction with the 42nd anniversary Tri-State Sculpture Conference, the Turchin Center for the Visual Arts is proud to partner with the 2020 Conference Chair, Travis Donovan, assistant professor of sculpture, Department of Art in Appalachian State University's College of Fine and Applied Arts to host the conference and bring the award-winning sculptor, Esperanza Cortés to campus as a keynote speaker and guest artist for an exhibition. Tri-State Sculptors is an association of education sculptors in the Virginia, North Carolina and South Carolina areas. Main Gallery, Through June 5 - "Fictive Strategies: Suzanne Sbarge & Holly Roberts". Sbarge and Roberts share a similar sensibility; they both use collage, weaving textures and images into surrealist enigmatic artworks that open subconscious doorways into the ambiguous space of the night: haunting dreams brim with narrative probability remaining stubbornly resistant to a literal interpretation. Both artists live in and are intimately familiar with the New Mexico landscape where a deep stillness is part of the character of both the land and the people who inhabit it. - Excerpt from Mary Anne Redding. Gallery A, Through May 1 - "Refugium: Christina Laurel". Laurel is a paper artist creating installations and two-dimensional art, all with a Japanese aesthetic. Her mission is to create an "exhale" moment, an oasis that offers a respite and refuge from our daily sensory overload. Suspended lace panels support a migrating pattern of butterflies that cast shadows and respond to air movement. Perambulating - whether with shoes, walker or wheelchair - through the suspended cocoons and grounded totems of "Refugium," the viewer will become a part of the installation and a part of the art. Gallery B, Through May 1 - "Longing for Amelia - The Historical and Mythological Landscape: Matthew Arnold". On May 20, 1937, Amelia Earhart and navigator Fred Noonan took off from Oakland, California on the first leg of their historic round-the-world flight. They disappeared 43 days later while trying to locate tiny Howland Island in the remote Pacific. 83 years after Earhart's disappearance her legend survives in the many individuals still searching for evidence of what happened to her on that fateful day in 1937. With this photographic project, Matthew Arnold documents the environs that play host to the many theories which attempt to resolve the mystery of Amelia Earhart's disappearance. The work presented here is from the first stage of Arnold's project—a five-week expedition to the outer reaches of the Northern Mariana and Marshall Islands, photographing the seascapes and landscapes specific to the "Japanese Capture" theory. It is a theory that involves a forced landing in fortified Japanese territory followed by capture, imprisonment, and possible execution at the hands of their Imperial Navy. Hours: 10am-6pm, Tue., Wed., Thur., & Sat. and Fri., noon-8pm. Contact: Hank T. Foreman at 828/262-3017 or at (www.turchincenter.org).

Chapel Hill - Carrboro

Work by Shanequa Gay

Ackland Art Museum, UNC - Chapel Hill, Columbia & Franklin Streets, Chapel Hill. Held over until Mar. 28 - "Yayoi Kusama: Open the Shape Called Love," featuring early works on paper from the 1950s, a full range of intimate "dot paintings" and "net paintings," examples of provocative sculpture and multi-media work, and one tabletop mirror box. Held over until July 4 - "Instruments of Divination in Africa: Works from the Collection of Rhonda Morgan Wilkerson, Ph.D.", a special installation featuring sculptures and other objects used by diviners in Central and West African cultures, has also been extended. Through July 4 - "holding space for nobility: a memorial for Breonna Taylor". Breonna Taylor was fatally shot by officers of the Louisville Metro Police Department after they forced entry into her home on March 13, 2020. She was twenty-six years old. In the months since her death, her story has become a part of national conversations about racial violence and an impetus for activism against systemic injustices. In this immersive commission, artist Shanequa Gay (American, born 1977) transforms the museum's mixed-use ART& room into an area that can "hold space" for Taylor's memory. Through acrylics and oils, Gay renders publicly shared images of Taylor's face from happy times in her life as a reminder of her roles as daughter, niece, friend, and, as Gay writes, "someone who was loved and is worthy of justice and being seen." Through Sept. 12 - "Clouding: Shape and Sign in Asian Art".
