Work by Robyn Crawford

Artists Collective I Spartanburg, 578 West Main St., Spartanburg. Galleries II and III, Through Feb. 3 - "Altered States," features works by 10 ACS members including: Dan Hazard, participating artists include Ken Bolton, Pat Cato, Judith Kolva, B. Collins, Monica Raquel, Petra Romero, Jackie Spohnholtz, Cassandra Stephens-Johnson and Skye Winter. The artists' works range from pottery to acrylic and oil painting, to photography and mosaics. "How is it that different people can have so many different takes on this world we share? By plunging into the depths of our experiences, we reveal ourselves and our unique visions of the place we all call home," says participating oil painting artist Dan Hazard, who is organizing the exhibit. "Visitors can expect to see beautiful paintings, and the textile art of mosaics and ceramics that represent how each of us sees the world around us. Gallery II, Feb. 6 - Mar. 2 - "Heart & Soul: A Celebration of Love and Spirit," featuring works by Robyn Crawford and Lady Pluuto. A reception with the artists will be held on Feb. 15, in conjunction with ArtWalk Spartanburg. The heart and soul are two "essential aspects of humanity," says Upstate mixed media artist Robyn Crawford. That's why she and artist Lady Pluuto came together to present a joint exhibition. Lady Pluuto's art includes acrylic and oil paints, digital paintings and murals. "We would like to invite our visitors into an immersive experience to explore how the heart and soul are interconnected and what it means to be human," Crawford says. Gallery III, Feb. 6 - Mar. 2 - "Shaped by Clay: Clay-shaper Jim Weber". An artist's reception will be held on Feb. 15, as part of ArtWalk Spartanburg. Upstate potter Jim Weber doesn't consider himself an artist, but many of those who own some of his works may disagree, choosing to display their pieces in their homes or offices as decorative art. Weber will exhibit his "traditional utilitarian and decorative" pottery. "I am not an artist," Weber emphasizes. "I've been a potter for over 50 years, nearly 40 of those full-time." Making those utilitarian pieces - mugs, bowls, plates, pitchers and vases - Weber says he approaches his work "more as an 'engineer' than as an 'artist'." Solomon Gallery, Through Mar. 2 - "Chips Off the Old Block: A Retrospective of Roscoe Conn's Art". An artist's talk is set for Feb. 15, both as part of ArtWalk Spartanburg. Upstate collage artist and teacher Roscoe Conn describes his artwork and art career as "chunks" of himself that do not fall far from his personality and approach to life. He will share himself and his collage and mixed media art in his solo exhibition. Conn says his "vision and spirit are evident in the collection's style, content and form. Ranging from meditations on politics and identity to landscapes of my environment, the exhibit showcases a consistent appreciation and appraisal of the things in life we often take for granted." Ongoing - The Collective features a twenty thousand square foot facility offering affordable studio space, retail space, three galleries, a full ceramics studio, printery, and works by 50 local artists. His ties to the Spartanburg community originate from his longtime employment at Milliken and Company. Tait was born in Old Town, Maine in 1917 and graduated from the New Hampshire Institute of Arts and Science. In the late 1940s, he moved to New York City where he designed an exclusive line of ladies' handkerchiefs for the department store B. Altman, now considered vintage, collectible items. He also became associated with the American Artist Group designing Christmas cards, an occupation which he kept up throughout the majority of his artistic career. Krisel was a distinguished artist, architect, and teacher as well as a loving father and husband. Though Krisel may not be a household name among Spartanburg residents, he has made a significant artistic contribution to the Spartanburg community. Born in Brooklyn, NY in 1920, Krisel's interest in art and design started at a young age. He attended the American Artist School in New York city as a teenager where he met renowned modern artists, including Piet Mondrian, who greatly influenced his abstract style. After studying architecture at the New Bauhaus in Chicago from 1946-1949, he received his graduate degree from Illinois Institute of Technology in 1952. The following year, he began working for architectural firm Skidmore, Owings and Merrill when Roger Milliken hired them to design Milliken's new research facility in Spartanburg. Upon realizing Krisel was also a sculptor, Milliken hired him to design the spray fountain outside of the facility which functions as a recycler of air conditioning water. He then went on to design the Trident Fountain located outside of the Papadopoulos building on Wofford College's campus. Hours: Mon.-Fri., 10am-7pm & Sat, 9am-3pm.
