Work by Tim McElroy

Bauman Galleries, 2nd floor, Founders Hall, Guilford College, 5800 W. Friendly Ave., Greensboro. Apr. 7 - May 8 - "WEATHER: 2021 Guilford College Senior Thesis Art Exhibition". Due to ongoing safety concerns regarding the spread of COVID-19, attendance policies for the exhibition are updated frequently. Please contact Katy Collier, by e-mail at (collierkg@guilford.edu), for current information. "WEATHER" represents embracing adaptation and change, phenomena that recur throughout our lives, and were especially apparent in the past year. Weather is a noun but also a verb; the artists in this exhibition have weathered many storms together through their year-long shared thesis experience. They have collaborated as individuals and as a creative unit despite being physically scattered. Weather changes, so does art. Participating artists and their areas of specialization are: Julia de Wit, John Ellis, Alana Harrelson, Tim McElroy, Emma Sarver, Willow Stevenson, Hazel Wechsler, Lily Wieleba, and Carolyn Worley. Hours: daily from 9am-9pm. Contact: 336/316-2301.

GreenHill, a space for NC art, 200 North Davie Street, Greensboro Cultural Center, Greensboro. Through June 26 - "SHIFT HAPPENS". GreenHill presents a compelling series of site-specific installations in tape and video, luminous abstract paintings, drawings, as well as participatory projects by Knightdale artist Heather Gordon. Visitor responses and collaboration will inform the creation of dynamic new works inside and outside the Gallery. "SHIFT HAPPENS" expands GreenHill's public art initiative "One Love Response", that was created by Gordon and inspired by the "One Love" street mural on Greensboro's North Davie Street. At a time of global unrest and isolation, the exhibition creates space for conversation. Immersive, evolving installations encourage viewers to come together and consider: "Where are the truths we yearn to reveal?" In "SHIFT HAPPENS," Gordon examines language phrases surrounding COVID-19 reporting. The titles of many of Gordon's works are the basis for their design. Phrases like "essential worker" are translated by the artist into numbers and then origami shapes to make "maps" that in turn become paintings or tape installations. Now a comprehensive digital catalog makes the full exhibition accessible wherever you may be. Be among the first to see the publication at (https://www.greenhillinc.org/shift-happens). Hours: Thur.-Sat., noon-5pm. Contact: 336/333-7460 or at (www.greenhillinc.org).

Weatherspoon Art Museum, University of North Carolina - Greensboro, Cone Building, Tate and Spring Garden Streets, Greensboro. Through May 29 - "Xaviera Simmons: Falk Visiting Artist". Images and objects, bodies and geography, the personal and the social: artist Xaviera Simmons binds these themes together in artworks that respond to the gaps and distortions in our understanding of histories—be they artistic, political, or economic. Working extensively from archival sources and thinking deeply about art history, she focuses on documents and artifacts that shed light on "the experiences of White, Indigenous, and Black Americans who descend from slavery, stories shaped in relationship to the overarching theme of White threat and terror." Through Apr. 3 - "Markmaking: Selections from the Collection". The artworks in this exhibition show a plethora of approaches to markmaking, a term used to describe the different types of lines, scratches, smudges, patterns, dots, and textures that result from the way an artist applies a material, such as graphite or paint, to a surface. Because each mark possesses unique characteristics as well as contributes to the entire composition, it is an effective way to communicate. Marks can be descriptive, intuitive, or expressive. For example, some marks suggest vigorous energy or movement owing to the way they were applied, while others denote close attention to detail. Still, others feature novel techniques such as cutting and burning. On display are works by, among many others: Natalie Alper, Keith Carter, Sol LeWitt, Vik Muniz, Alyson Shotz, and Robert Smithson. In all, these objects show how distinct strokes and application methods make each—and its artist—unique. Through June 19 - "Slow Looking/Deep Seeing". Research has shown that visitors to art venues spend only a few seconds looking at each work on display. The Weatherspoon's curatorial and education staff has organized an exhibition drawn from the museum's collection that will offer visitors a chance to slow down, make discoveries, and effectively connect with works of art. "Slow Looking/Deep Seeing" features a variety of works, both modern and contemporary, and is divided into three sections to facilitate immersive viewing: Reading the Narrative/Image, Noticing as Contemplative Practice, and Interpreting Movement. Figurative paintings with complex narratives will prompt viewers to take some time to decipher their meaning, while both representational and abstract artworks will allow for in-depth examination and peaceful contemplation. Slow Looking/Deep Seeing will be used by UNGC courses this spring as part of the museum's Art of Seeing program. Now in its eleventh year, the program is designed to help students in health and human science fields hone their visual, diagnostic, interpretative, and communication skills. 2nd Floor: The Gregory D. Ivy and the Weatherspoon Guild Galleries, Through Aug. 14 - Vibrant: Artists Engage with Color. Our associations with colors are profound and diverse. Someone "seeing red" is angry, someone "feeling blue" is sad. A "green" product is environmentally friendly, while a jealous person is "green with envy." We associate yellow with springtime—sunshine, daffodils, and baby chicks—yet also know it as an indication of low-level threats in color-coded alert systems. We make use of colors as forms of expression. Likewise for artists, color is a dynamic tool—one that can capture moods and suggest meanings. This exhibition presents works from the Weatherspoon's collection in which artists have chosen to feature singular colors to dramatic effect. Individually, they engage a breadth of content; collectively, they offer a vibrant installation that allows us to explore the color spectrum and appreciate its impact. This exhibition is organized by Dr. Emily Stamey, Curator of Exhibitions. Atrium and Lobbies - Featuring works of art complementing current gallery exhibitions which are rotated in the atrium and public areas throughout both floors of the gallery. Tom Otterness' site-specific work, "The Frieze" is permanently installed in the atrium. Sculpture Courtyard - Featuring selections of American sculpture from 1900 to the present from the Weatherspoon Collection and on loan works from contemporary artists. Admission: Free. Hours: Tue., Wed. & Fri., 10am-5pm, Thur., 10am to 9pm and Sat. & Sun., 1-5pm. Contact: 336/334-5770 or at (http://weatherspoon.uncg.edu/).

Greenville

Emerge Gallery & Art Center, 404 S. Evans St., Greenville. Don Edwards Gallery, Apr. 1 - 30 - "2021 ECU School of Art and Design Senior Exhibition," featuring works by Danielle Boyd, Metals Design and Emily Thomas, Ceramics. Harvey Wooten Gallery, Apr. 1 - 30 - "2021 ECU School of Art and Design Senior Exhibition," featuring works by Madison Groom, Photography and Madison Gurley, Photography. Ongoing - Featuring works in a variety of media by students, faculty, alumni (East Carolina University) and local artists. Hours: Tue.-Fri., 10am-9pm; Sat., 10am-4pm & Sun., 1-4pm. Contact: 252/551-6947 or at (www.emergegallery.com).

Greenville Museum of Art, 802 South Evans Street, Greenville. The Francis Speight and Sarah Blakeslee Gallery, Ongoing - Is dedicated to the work of these two artists. Speight was born in Bertie County, North Carolina, and moved back to Greenville to teach at East Carolina University after spending a majority of his career at the Pennsylvania Academy of Fine Arts. Blakeslee was born in Illinois and met Speight at the Academy as a student. The couple lived outside of Philadelphia until moving to Greenville in 1961. The Kenneth Noland Gallery, Ongoing - Celebrates the art and legacy of Black Mountain College, an innovative liberal arts college that operated between 1933 and 1957. Kenneth Noland, born in Asheville in 1924, attended Black Mountain College on the G. I. Bill from 1946 to 1948. He studied under Josef Albers and Ilya Bolotowsky, who introduced him to the work of artists interested in geometry and color. The Rachel Maxwell Moore Art Foundation Gallery, Ongoing - Features rotating works purchased for the Museum by the foundation. Rachel Maxwell Moore was a leading civic figure and arts advocate in Greenville. and was central to the founding of the Museum's predecessor in 1939. She established the Rachel Maxwell Moore Art Foundation in 1963, and before she passed away in 1964, bequeathed funds to the foundation for the sole purpose of purchasing works of art for the Museum's permanent collection. Ongoing - GMoA has a strong collection of North Carolina pottery, and especially from Jugtown Pottery in Seagrove, North Carolina. Jugtown Pottery was opened by Jacques and Juliana Busbee in 1921. They were influential at Jugtown and elsewhere in Seagrove by introducing local North Carolina potters to international ceramic styles and glazes. Much of our pottery collection was given to the Museum by Mrs. Lindsay Savage in 1948 and Dr. James H. Stewart in the 1980s. Admission: Free. Hours: Tue.-Sat., 10-4:30pm. Contact: 252/758-1946 or at (www.gmoa.org).
