Work by Conrad Wise Chapman

Art Galleries, Buffalo, New York, features Marc's fascinating photographs and digital montages that explore the history of freedom-seekers on the Underground Railroad. Offered to coincide with the 150th anniversary observance of the start of the Civil War. July 22 - Oct. 16 - "The Creative Spirit: Vernacular Art from the Gadsden Arts Center Permanent Collection," organized by the Gadsden Arts Center in Quincy, FL. The exhibition features paintings, drawings, and sculpture by the foremost self-taught artists of the American South. Centered around works of art by the most acclaimed southern vernacular artist, Thornton Dial Sr., the exhibition also includes other well known self-taught artists such as Lonnie Holley, Joe Light, Jimmy Lee Sudduth, Mose Tolliver, and Purvis Young. Rotunda Galleries, Through July 10 - "A Soldiers View of Civil War Charleston," organized by the Gibbes, features paintings by artist and Confederate soldier Conrad Wise Chapman depicting Charleston during the war. Offered to coincide with the 150th anniversary observance of the start of the Civil War. "The Civil War is certainly an important part of Charleston's history, and our featured exhibitions offer two different perspectives of this time period. Conrad Wise Chapman's paintings provide the first-hand view of a soldier on the front lines, while Stephen Marc's digital montages offer a contemporary take on slavery, the Underground Railroad, and the vestiges of the Civil War," stated Pam Wall, Gibbes Curator of Exhibitions. July 22 - Oct. 16 - "In Search of Julien Hudson: Free Artist of Color in Pre-Civil War New Orleans," is co-organized by Worcester Art Museum and The Historic New Orleans Collection. The exhibition is the first retrospective of the brief - but important - career of portraitist Julien Hudson, one of the earliest documented free artists of color working in the 19th century. The exhibit explores the influence of free people of color in New Orleans during the 19th century. Historically, free people of color, or gens de couleur libres, were people of African and often mixed Afro-European descent who had either been born into freedom or gained their liberty through other means. Gallery G, Through July 17 - "Anna Heyward Taylor: World Traveler". Taylor is best known as one of the principal artists of the Charleston Renaissance, a period of cultural rebirth in the city from roughly 1915 to 1940. Prior to settling in Charleston in 1929, Taylor traveled widely including excursions to Europe, the Far East, the Caribbean, and South America. This exhibition focuses on Taylor's extended visits to British Guiana (on the northern coast of South America) and Mexico, and features the exquisite watercolors and woodblock prints she created based on her experiences. First, Second and Third Floor Galleries, Ongoing - "The Charleston Story". Drawn from the museum's permanent collection, this exhibition highlights significant people, places, and periods from Charleston's beginning as a British colony, through the American Revolution, the later ravages of the Civil War, and culminating today as a culturally diverse and dynamic community. Ongoing - "Hands On!" This exhibit features works of art selected from the Gibbes Museum of Art's touch collection. Museum Shop - Now offering the inventory of the Tradd Street Press, reproductions of works by Elizabeth O'Neill Verner among other exhibit related art objects. Columbia Area

Columbia Museum of Art, Main & Hampton Streets, Columbia. Lipscomb Family Galleries, Through Oct. 23 - "An Artist's Eye: A Journey through Modern and Contemporary Art with Sigmund Abeles". Guest curator and artist Sigmund Abeles brings a fresh eye and a different perspective to the Museum's collection of modern and contemporary art. Now 75, Sig has matured as an artist alongside some of the major artistic movements of the 20th century. His ability to bring to bear his vast experience as an artist, a South Carolinian, and his deep connections to the early years of the Columbia Museum of Art promises an exhibition full of variety and surprises. July 16 - Oct. 23 - "Michael Kenna: Venezia". Kenna's work has often been described as enigmatic, graceful and hauntingly beautiful. The exhibition features 53 black and white images that demonstrate a skilled photographer's ability to capture on film what we cannot see with our eyes, such as the movement of time and the presence of atmosphere. Kenna has captured the essence of Venice, its romance, its miraculous existence and its crumbling beauty. His long exposures, sometimes lasting several hours during the darkest hours of the night, smooth over the surfaces of the canals, further emphasizing their street-like function in this floating city. With typically meticulous prints, Kenna distills Venice to its iconic, elemental characteristics of water and light. Mamie and William Andrew Treadway, Jr., Gallery 15, Through Aug. 21 - "Rembrandt: From Sacred to Profane". Rembrandt van Rijn is one of the most celebrated artists in history. The installation, showcases examples from his traditional subjects, such as his famous "Christ Healing the Sick" and portraits, to more mundane images, like the "Beggar with a Stick", nude studies and the so-called "Man Making Water". David Wallace Robinson, Jr. Community Gallery, Through Sept. 18 - "Ink and Paper Printmaking," featuring prints by the Ink and Paper printmaking student group at USC are on display. Wachovia Education Gallery, Through July 4 - "Scenes from the Palmetto Trail". In partnership with Palmetto Conservation Foundation, the Museum presents 35 photographs of the Palmetto Trail. This installation highlights the Palmetto Trail, the state of South Carolina and student photographers. After the Columbia installation, the photo gallery travels to Washington, DC, for display in Sen. Lindsey Graham's offices. BB&T Focus Gallery, Ongoing - "Southern Traditions," will showcase the richness and diversity of the Museum's collection of furniture, ceramics, silver, basketry, sculpture and paintings by artists native to, or active in, South Carolina and its surrounding states. Among the works on view will be fine silver made by Charleston and Columbia silversmiths; a sweet grass basket by Mary Jackson (SC, born 1945); wood carvings by Edgar Alexander McKillop (NC, 1879-1950); and paintings by Charles Fraser (SC, 1782-1860), Xanthus Russell Smith (SC, 1839-1929), William Harrison Scarborough (SC, 1812-1871), William Aiken Walker (SC, 1838-1921), among others. Ray Taylor Fair Gallery, Ongoing - Featuring a new and permanent installation of its ancient art collection. The installation includes approximately 50 objects that introduce the major ancient civilizations from the Mediterranean and Near East. Examples of the earliest form of writing from 12th century B.C. Mesopotamia, are shown next to Egyptian scarabs and Greek painted vessels. The world of the ancient Romans is represented by 2nd century glass and bronze items and portrait sculpture. Many of these works have not been seen since the Museum moved to its location on Main Street in 1998. The collection has grown over the last several years with the donation of 12 fine Roman sculptures in 2002 from Pennsylvania collector Dr. Robert Y. Turner. Admission: Yes, but there is no admission charge on Sun. Hours: Tue.-Fri., 11am-5pm; first Fri., till 8pm; Sat., 10am-5pm & Sun., noon-5pm. Contact: 803/799-2810 or at (www.columbiamuseum.org).
