FLAT OUT UNDER PRESSURE

The First Decade

Flat Out Under Pressure (FOUP) is a visual art contest that challenges artists to create an award-winning piece of art in under 24 hours! The professionally juried event selects eight winning artists who have their work recreated on the eight sponsored recycling bins in downtown Greenville for the following calendar year, engaging the community and supporting sustainable practice in our beautiful city. In addition to being included in this interactive outdoor gallery, the selected artists also receive cash prize amounts up to $1000. The first place winner also receives a week-long trip to Italy for two to stay in the beautiful Villa Sant' Andrea, a beautifully restored property in Tuscany near Umbria, between Florence and Rome.

Traci Martin

This incredibly charged contest began in 2010 and has evolved into one of the most anticipated annual events for visual artists, with over 130 registered entries in 2020. This year, we are celebrating the accomplishments of those artists and this program in a powerful exhibit featuring the eight winners from each year through 2020.
